Fire Sculptures
Limited edition fire art.

Fire Sculptures are unique art pieces designed and executed by Travis Industries President and Head of Design, Kurt Rumens and fine artist Jamie Hurtt. Fire Sculptures present a new medium that has never before been presented in the accompaniment of fire. Fireplace Xtrordinair offers the Fire Sculptures as a gallery of four hand-finished and hand-painted fine art designs.

These optional Fire Sculptures installed in our gas fireplaces will create magical gathering places for story tellers in the night.

This drift wood sculpture has the feel of the ages. Imagine a seedling taking root in the soil near an Alpine Lake centuries ago. The elements do their best to age, weather and eventually dislodge that mighty tree from the earth, where a portion of a great limb is broken off and swept into the water to be further changed by wind and water. Eventually this limb washes onto a quiet shore, baking and bleaching in the hot sun. This hand-carved ceramic sculpture is our interpretation of that dramatic story of nature.

This is a sculpture of contrast, of ice and fire. The hand-painted paper birch suggest that a hidden surprise awaits amongst the dappled saplings, much like a Bev Doolittle painting. The paper white birch and crushed glass create an icy cool contrast to the surprise - a spectacular ribbon of fire, five feet long, that is the backdrop to the North Woods Fire Sculpture.
In a land born of fire, Maui the Valley Island, is the host to some of the most beautiful tropical forest on the planet. For years Kurt has explored the forest and bamboo groves that dot Maui’s lush valleys and has noticed that fire has occasionally reclaimed the bamboo groves and yet the bamboo would always return in this ancient dance. This concept of renewal sets the stage for the Fire Sculpture - Maui Grove.

The spiral of life - is an ancient symbol of Celtic beliefs. The Celts believed that all life moved in eternal cycles, regenerating at each turn of the spiral. The spiral chain moves in one single line without a beginning or an end, suggesting a continuous movement of time. The Celts also believed that all important things were a continuous chain of mind, body, and spirit. This concept of life sets the stage for the Fire Sculpture - Spiral Chain.
